

From the Promised Land to the Golden State: Shifting the Water Paradigm

Israel, dominated by desert, now has so much affordable water that it exports it to neighboring countries. With California facing a chronic drought, no time is better than now to hear from one of Israel's leading water authorities. Join us for a dynamic panel of Israeli and Californian water experts as they probe how we can rethink our approach to this critical resource.

Tuesday, April 12, 2016
6:30pm – 9:30pm
Levy Family Campus
14855 Oka Road, Los Gatos

General Admission:
$10 online/$20 at the door
Seniors & F/T college students:
$5 online/$10 at the door
Includes light dinner and wine
Register at www.jhtc.org

FEATURED SPEAKER

Abraham Tenne, Former Head of the Desalination Division of the Israeli Governmental Water Authority

PANEL OF CALIFORNIA WATER EXPERTS

Moderator: Stephen Stock, Senior Investigative Reporter, NBC Bay Area

- Jim Fiedler, Chief Operating Officer, Santa Clara Valley Water District
- Dr. Newsha Ajami, Director of Urban Water Policy, Water in the West, Stanford University

Sponsored by Jewish High Tech Community, Community Relations Council of the Jewish Federation of Silicon Valley, Israeli Consulate of the Pacific Northwest, Jewish National Fund, Addison-Penzak Jewish Community Center, Check Point Software Technologies, and CLUBZ