

Subject: Pass the Bay Plan Climate Change Policy

Date: Friday, April 22, 2011 12:37 PM

From: amkfoudray@gmail.com

To: <info@bcdc.ca.gov>

Angela Foudray
1809 Germaine Ct
San Jose, CA 95122-3708

April 22, 2011

Sean Randolph

Dear Sean Randolph:

BCDC has shown its leadership by educating the Bay Area about the challenges of sea level rise. I urge you now to promptly adopt the staff's proposal for the Bay Plan Climate Change Policy that gives cities guidance on how to protect infrastructure and crucial habitat in areas vulnerable to sea level rise.

This policy has been carefully crafted through two years of extensive outreach, public hearings and BCDC workshops. It advances the California Climate Adaptation Strategy that Governor Schwarzenegger adopted in 2009 and it will help ensure a common and cautious approach to sea level rise planning, instead of allowing cities and developers to ignore risks.

Please reject the false claims and attacks of developers, and adopt these policies that will help guide the Bay Area's sea level rise planning to protect people and wildlife habitat.

Sincerely,

Angela Foudray

Subject: Pass the Bay Plan Climate Change Policy

Date: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 2:08 PM

From: summitdogluv@yahoo.com

To: <info@bcdc.ca.gov>

Lisa Kucukdogerli
235 Westlake Ctr #241
Daly City, CA 94015-1430

April 27, 2011

Sean Randolph

Dear Sean Randolph:

BCDC has shown its leadership by educating the Bay Area about the challenges of sea level rise. I urge you now to promptly adopt the staff's proposal for the Bay Plan Climate Change Policy that gives cities guidance on how to protect infrastructure and crucial habitat in areas vulnerable to sea level rise.

This policy has been carefully crafted through two years of extensive outreach, public hearings and BCDC workshops. It advances the California Climate Adaptation Strategy that Governor Schwarzenegger adopted in 2009 and it will help ensure a common and cautious approach to sea level rise planning, instead of allowing cities and developers to ignore risks.

Please reject the false claims and attacks of developers, and adopt these policies that will help guide the Bay Area's sea level rise planning to protect people and wildlife habitat.

Sincerely,

Lisa Kucukdogerli

Subject: Pass the Bay Plan Climate Change Policy

Date: Thursday, April 28, 2011 9:23 AM

From: kellyrohlf0@gmail.com

To: <info@bcdc.ca.gov>

Kelly Rohlf
645 Sierra Ave
Mountain View, CA 94041-2146

April 28, 2011

Sean Randolph

Dear Sean Randolph:

BCDC has shown its leadership by educating the Bay Area about the challenges of sea level rise. I urge you now to promptly adopt the staff's proposal for the Bay Plan Climate Change Policy that gives cities guidance on how to protect infrastructure and crucial habitat in areas vulnerable to sea level rise.

This policy has been carefully crafted through two years of extensive outreach, public hearings and BCDC workshops. It advances the California Climate Adaptation Strategy that Governor Schwarzenegger adopted in 2009 and it will help ensure a common and cautious approach to sea level rise planning, instead of allowing cities and developers to ignore risks.

Please reject the false claims and attacks of developers, and adopt these policies that will help guide the Bay Area's sea level rise planning to protect people and wildlife habitat.

Sincerely,

Kelly Rohlf
6508682315

