

East Bay Municipal Utility District
Director of Wastewater
$143,352 - $207,060 plus excellent benefits
(The appointment may be made within the range dependent on qualifications)

East Bay Municipal Utility District, the west's largest independent water and wastewater utility, seeks qualified applicants for the Director of Wastewater. The director will lead and manage the Wastewater Department staff who provide wastewater treatment services and laboratory services for both water and wastewater operations. Other wastewater programs include source control, pollution prevention, wet weather, recycled water, power generation, resource recovery and biosolids management. The department serves 650,000 people in an 88-square-mile area for parts of Alameda and Contra Costa counties in the East San Francisco Bay Area.

The ideal candidate will have a bachelor's or graduate degree in engineering or a related field and eight to ten years of progressively responsible supervisory or management experience in wastewater engineering and operations. A professional engineering license in the state of California is required and a Grade V wastewater treatment certificate is desired. Exceptional proven leadership, wastewater management skills, technical expertise and written and communication skills are essential.
